April 2023

U.S. existing-home sales declined 2.4 percent month-over-month as of last measure, according to the National Association of REALTORS® (NAR), reversing February's sales gain of 14.5%. Fluctuations in mortgage interest rates have caused buyers to pullback, with pending sales dropping 5.2% month-over-month. Meanwhile, the median existing-home sales price declined for the second month in a row, falling 0.9% nationally from the same time last year, the largest year-over-year decline since January 2012, according to NAR.

New Listings decreased 19.9 percent for Residential homes and 26.4 percent for Townhouse/Condo homes. Pending Sales decreased 18.5 percent for Residential homes and 13.1 percent for Townhouse/Condo homes. Inventory increased 0.5 percent for Residential homes but decreased 14.8 percent for Townhouse/Condo homes.

Median Sales Price increased 6.6 percent to $239,900 for Residential homes and 5.8 percent to $219,000 for Townhouse/Condo homes. Days on Market increased 21.9 percent for Residential homes and 38.5 percent for Townhouse/Condo homes. Months Supply of Inventory increased 21.4 percent for Residential homes but remained flat for Townhouse/Condo homes.

Housing inventory remains tight nationwide, with only 980,000 units available for sale heading into April, a 5.4% increase from one year earlier, although the number of homes for sale is down compared to the same period in 2019, prior to the pandemic. The lack of existing inventory continues to impact home sales, and with only 2.6 months' supply of homes at last measure, competition for available properties remains strong, especially in certain price categories, with multiple offers occurring on about a third of properties, according to NAR.
